“Dinner for Two by Maroni Southold” to Benefit Southold Historical Society

Southold Historical Society is pleased to announce the return of “Dinner for Two by Maroni Southold” on February 11, 2021, a fundraising event in collaboration with Maroni Southold. Just in time for Valentine’s Day, the benefit dinner offers an opportunity to enjoy Grandma Maroni’s Famous Italian meatballs while also supporting your local history museum. The February 11 Make Your Own Meatball Hero take-out dinner will include a plentiful portion of Maroni’s meatballs in delicious Pomodoro sauce and a fresh baguette. Maroni Southold is donating their goods and services so that all proceeds will benefit Southold Historical Society.

Society Executive Director Deanna Witte-Walker states, “We are excited to be working with Maroni Southold once again. They are generous and thoughtful neighbors whose support of the Historical Society and the community is greatly appreciated. Plus, who can resist Maroni’s meatballs?”

Generations of people have been showing their love through food. The Make Your Own Meatball Hero dinner is an easy way to treat your loved one(s) to a delicious meal - precisely at a time when displays of love are desired – Valentine’s Day!

Tickets will be sold in advance through Southold Historical Society. Please purchase online at www.southoldhistorical.org. The deadline to purchase is Friday, February 5.
